What Does Tidy Software Do?

Put quite simply, Tidy Software writes business software for individuals and organisations who don't use commercially available software. We do this either because the software does not exist or else it does not do what is required. At Tidy Software we have over 30 years combined experience of doing this on a daily basis. We are therefore well qualified to help you.

What Are the Benefits Of This Approach?

You can have exactly what you want, customised to fit your business exactly like a well tailored suit.

As your business changes then your software can also be changed to develop with you, like a tailor who adjusts your suit to fit you as you grow older.

This either saves you money in the long run, relieves frustration or makes you more

What Does This Allow You To Do?

To grow your business, streamlining it to boost it on to the next level.

To empower your team, to give them access to all the tools in the box. This will allow them to work harder, faster and smarter to really punch hard when seeing off the com-

To make your business less reliant on key staff members or inefficient procedures and share that valuable knowledge throughout the business.

To easily generate and share information between individuals and teams up to management more easily?

To make more profit so that you can put more money in the bank?
